To provide an incentive for the achievement of credits that address geographically specific environmental, social equity, and public health priorities.

POTENTIAL TECHNOLOGIES & STRATEGIES

☒ LEED projects are designed, built, and operated in many different contexts. Climate, population density, and local regulations can differ significantly from one location to another, making certain environmental issues more critical than others. Examples include water conservation in arid climates versus rainwater management in wet climates

REQUIREMENTS

Earn up to four of the six Regional Priority credits. These credits have been identified by the USGBC regional councils and chapters as having additional regional importance for the project's region. A database of Regional Priority credits and their geographic applicability is available on the USGBC website, <http://www.usgbc.org>. One point is awarded for each Regional Priority credit achieved, up to a maximum of four.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

Documentation
No additional documentation is required to earn Regional Priority credits. Document compliance for the selected credits, and the related RP bonus points for their achievement will be awarded automatically.
